CLEVELAND (O.), Sept. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] An immense blood-red flag was carried through the leading streets of Cleveland today, and behind it marched scores of Anarchists. Tonight the flag is bedraggled and five of the men who followed are in the lockup. This was "Labor day," so-called, and 1200 men formed in line, and with music and waving emblems, paraded the down-town thoroughfares, and then withdrew to a garden in the suburbs. The Anarchists were in the procession, and declaring themselves to be carpenters, they were permitted to retain the place they had quietly slipped into. At the garden they unfurled their flag and refused to acknowledge the Stars and Stripes. The committee in charge induced them finally to put the flag away. When the committeemen turned their backs, however, the Anarchists seized their emblem of blood and waved it aloft triumphantly. Immediately they were attacked by 100 honest workingmen, whose indignation was beyond control. The flag was trampled under foot, and one Anarchist after another went to the ground in the fight that continued for at least 10 minutes. All the Anarchists but five escaped the three detectives who were present, but those who got away were bleeding and lame, and will hardly appear in public for some time. The names of those arrested are Ben Bill, carpenter; Emil Schilling, machinist; Godfrey Ostermyer, Charles Lubelin and Gustav Buetner, carpenters. They were locked up at the Forest-street police station and charged with riot.

PARADES AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Two labor parades were held here, one by the Knights of Labor and one by the trades unions. Both were followed by picnics. The former laid the corner-stone of the Bricklayers' Temple.

Among the mottoes carried were: "America has laborers enough to do her own work." "No more Chinamen or contract laborers." "Opposed to tenement house, Chinese and prison-made cigars." "Carpenters will never vote for any candidate who was nominated in a scab building." This was supposed to refer to the building in which the Republican National Convention was held, as it was erected by non-union labor.

IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Labor day was appropriately observed here and elsewhere throughout the State. Business was practically suspended. The Exchange and banks were all closed. The great feature of the day was a labor parade. Games of all kinds and festivals occurred in many parks.
